

1. Top 10 Earners

- Insight:
The host Michael leads the earnings chart with over $500K, followed by 710 Beach Rentals, John, and David, each earning above $400K.
 - Implication:
These hosts may have optimized listings, better guest experiences, or prime locations contributing to higher income.

2. Relationship Between Price and Earnings

- Insight:
There's no direct linear relationship between price and total earnings. Most high earners have moderate prices, while very high-priced listings often earn less overall.
 - Implication:
Pricing strategy must balance affordability with value; simply increasing price doesn't guarantee higher total revenue.

3. Location vs Earnings (Geographical Insight)

- Insight:
The largest earnings cluster is concentrated near the shoreline, particularly near San Diego, between Oceanside and Tijuana.
 - Implication:
Shoreline proximity significantly impacts earnings, possibly due to tourism and vacation rental demand.

4. Price vs Number of Reviews

- Insight:
Most listings with high review counts are moderately priced (<$10K). Very high-priced listings tend to receive fewer reviews.
- Implication:
High guest volume is associated with affordable listings, and frequent reviews may indicate guest satisfaction and high occupancy rates.
